

Rebranding and merger of Abird B.V. with sister companies

PART OF

You know us as an industrial specialist in a number of disciplines: energy, power and light systems and welding, cutting, lifting, hoisting and equipment. We have always prided ourselves on offering you a great range of equipment and advice too. At a time convenient for you, 24/7.

Rebranding the Abird companies

We have been part of Boels Rental since December 2017, a development that has made it possible for us to invest even more in new equipment, which makes availability even better too, and in taking our specialist knowledge to an even higher level. All in all, we are now in the best position possible to provide you with the right advice for your needs and enable you to benefit from access to a wider range of rental and purchase items.

Abird B.V. and its sister companies Burki Lastechniek, De Wit Las- en snijtechniek and Kamphuis Lastechniek merged on 1 September 2018. This makes us the Boels Group industrial specialist. To ensure that customers know this, we started to use the name Abird B.V. at all of our Dutch branches with effect from 1 September 2018. You will come across our new logo everywhere too; it represents the developments outlined above. The other companies have now ceased to exist.
